Three districts in the Puebla State (Tochimilco, Tianguismanalco, Cohuecan) now have the necessary sanitary certification to export their avocado production. There are two other districts undergoing certification (Atlixco and Huaquechula). The cultivation area of Puebla State covers between 3 500 and 5 000 hectares, depending on the sources, for a production evaluated at between 15 000 and 20 000 tonnes. Surface area expansion, already considerable, should pick up with the implementation in early 2017 of a State technical and financial support programme.
